G.T.P. TO SPEND MANY MILLIONS

Six Hundred and Nineteen Miles of Branch Line to be Completed in West This Summer

Toronto, April 1.—Seventeen million dollars will be spent by the Grand Trunk Pacific during 1911 in constructing new lines and erecting station buildings throughout the west. There will be 619 miles of work undertaken on the branch lines and completed during the present season. With this will be included the Calgary branch, the Battleford branch, the Melville-Regina branch, the Alberta coal branch, the Regina Boundary branch, the Moose Jaw branch, the Prince Albert and the Biggar to Calgary. There will also be 265 miles of main line track laid as well as 200 miles further grading on the branch lines. Arrangements are also being made for the erection of 140 station buildings. This is the largest and most expensive year's work that the Grand Trunk Pacific has undertaken.

BIG DEALS CONSUMMATED IN STRATHCONA REALTY

WHYTE AVENUE BUSINESS PROPERTY BEING TURNED OVER AT HANDSOME FIGURES—HAPPY BUYING IN RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY.

Strathcona, April 1.—The sensation of the week in realty circles has been the sudden and active demand for Whyte avenue business sites with the investing public. Not since the boom of four years ago has the city witnessed such a brisk dealing in West Whyte sites and there is every good reason to assume that this movement is yet in its primary stages. The movement, however, was not unexpected, as the steady buying in residential sections for the past two months left little doubt that investing interest would sooner or later spread to the choice business locations available along Whyte.

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW SENATE

At the first meeting of the new senate of the Alberta University yesterday afternoon, a large number of routine matters were dealt with, including the appointment of committees, arrangement for convocation, which is to be held on May 17th, and the opening of negotiations with the law society and dental society for affiliation. A number of new clauses which will provide for lower courses in the third and fourth years of the university work were formulated to be added to the charter.

All of the members of the new senate were present as follows: Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart, chancellor of Calgary who occupied the chair; E. C. Pardee, chairman of the board of governors; Dr. H. M. Ford, president of the University; Dr. J. H. Huddell, principal of Alberta college; Hon. Mr. Justice Beek, vice-chancellor; W. H. Thompson, principal of Northern School; Calgary; D. S. MacKenzie, deputy minister of education; W. H. Alexander, professor of classics in the University and faculty representative; R. H. Kahlert, representing the Alberta Land Surveyors; the following ten elected members: Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Strathcona; P. T. Bishop, Edmonton; Hon. H. C. Taylor, Edmonton; P. J. Nolan, Calgary; Dr. O. Boyd, Medicine Hat; Geo. Harcourt, Edmonton; Dr. W. S. Galbraith, Lethbridge; Jas. McCall, Edmonton; F. A. Morrison, Vegreville; Tremblaine, Dicksen, Macleod.

These students will be ready for the degree of B.A. this spring, the first students to complete courses in the University. Twenty-three per cent. of the students are in applied science. Twenty-five per cent. of the students are women. There are five students from Calgary and four from Lethbridge.

SIR EDWARD TENNANT TO VISIT EDMONTON

Next Thursday, Sir Edward Tennant, a brother-in-law of Premier Asquith of Great Britain, will visit Edmonton, together with a number of other old country nobles.

Sir Edward is at present in Vancouver, having flown the west in the private "Canadian" of the Canadian Northern railway, in company with Anselmus Jarvis, of Toronto, the well known financier. They are looking in to certain investments in the west.

The party are expected to reach Edmonton next Thursday evening, over the P. R. from the south and will be in Edmonton over-night. They will leave for the east over the Canadian Northern lines.

LEADING CAMBRIDGE ALL THE WAY OXFORD ESTABLISHES NEW RECORD

London, April 1.—Leading all the way, Oxford won the boat race today by two and a quarter lengths in thirteen minutes 29 seconds. The weather was almost ideal and the water smooth. Oxford won the toss and chose the Surrey side. At Beverley Brook, Oxford was leading by nearly a quarter a length, rowing 37 to the Cambridge 38 to the minute. At Goring, the dark blue boat had increased their lead to three-quarters of a length, but Cambridge was gaining slightly at that point. R. C. Bourne, however, here put in some fine work, with the result that his boat had a lead of two lengths of Doves. Cambridge spurred and closed up the gap, Arbutnot setting a stroke of 34 to Oxford's 33, but he appeared to be tiring. At Thornycroft, Oxford was leading by a length, and at Beccington by two and a quarter, which they easily maintained to the finish. The customary big crowd lined the river and the bridges or followed the race in penny stages. A strong tide helped the winning crew.

The official times at various points on the course were as follows: Start 2:38; first mile, 4 minutes; Hammersmith Bridge, 7 minutes 11 seconds; Shiswick Church, 11 minutes 19 seconds; Barnes Bridge, 16 minutes 24 seconds; finish, 19 minutes 29 seconds.

The best time ever made heretofore was 18 minutes 31 seconds, which mark Oxford set in 1893 and Cambridge equalled in 1900.

LOTS OF MONEY TRAIL OF OLD COUNTRY PURPOSES SETTLERS

But Loan Companies Are Tight on Real Estate Speculations.

CHEERFUL PROSPECT FOR BUILDING YEAR

Possibility of Labor Trouble the Only Cloud in the Sky—Contractors Say There Will Be No Fight This Year.

Money will be plentiful in Edmonton this season for building operations, and those contemplating the erection of blocks, and other buildings, will have little difficulty in negotiating loans, provided their propositions are reasonable. The city has learned from a canvass of some of the loan companies and banks.

The financial institutions are inclined to look favorably upon any good building proposition and reasonable business enterprise, but are rather holding light on real estate investments.

This lends an added cheerfulness to the prospects for a big building year in Edmonton this season. Many contractors and owners have been contemplating large blocks for some time and difficulty in securing plenty of money was one of the reasons for holding back.

With peace in the labor camp, Edmonton should experience a tremendous building season this summer. Already there are over $2,000,000 worth of big blocks in sight, and most of these are to be completed within a few weeks. Work has already commenced on the Teger block on First street, and one or two others.

Difficulty with labor unions is not expected by the builders, although the builders' exchange say that they will carry through their open shop proposals after the first of May, and this, on the face of it, spells almost certain trouble with the unions. The labor men are emphatic in their declaration that they do not want to have trouble this year, that they are more than anxious to get on with their work, and it is hardly likely, though, that the carpenters, for instance, will be so ready to have a strike with the builders' exchange annulled by a declaration of open shop.

The third annual dinner of the sergeants mess of the 101st Fusiliers was held at the Royal George hotel last night, and there were a large number present including guests from the 19th, 22nd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th.

ROYAL BANK WINS FIRST PRELIMINARY IN BIG CASE OVER THE WATERWAYS

MILLIONS—CHIEF JUSTICE HARVEY AND JUSTICE BECK SEE IT DIFFERENTLY—ALLOWED SIX DAYS IN WHICH TO FILE DEFENCE.

By the decision of the Supreme Court en banc, the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway company and the Canadian Construction company were this morning added as co-defendants with the Royal Bank in the action which has been brought by the province of Alberta to obtain control of the $6,000,000 of Waterways monies which are now in the hands of the bank, and the companies and the Royal bank win the first round in the action which is destined to prove the greatest legal case in the history of Alberta and of Western Canada, a conflict which may occupy the attention of the courts for years to come, and the issue of which will only be finally determined by the privy council.

As a result of the decision the companies and the bank, to whom the funds raised by the sale of the Waterways bonds have been assigned, will appear as joint parties to all the proceedings which may subsequently arise out of the litigation carried by Premier Sifton last session, whereby the monies raised for a railroad to Fort McMurtry were diverted to the general revenue fund of the province.

Both the appeal of the province against the decision of Mr. Justice Beck, joining the parties, was dismissed, and the substantive motion of the companies and the bank to be added as parties, was granted, and the companies who now become defendants with the Royal bank, are given six days in which to file their defence. There can be no amendment to the pleadings of the Royal bank or the province.

The appeal and the substantive motion of Mr. Ford, have given rise to the expression of a variety of opinions on the part of the judges of the supreme court, the points of difference concerning the technical features of the appeal, and the merits of the case, were agreed on all points. Justice Beck adhered to his original decision.

High Price Paid For Jasper Property. Fifty feet frontage on Jasper avenue, north side, east of First street, were sold yesterday by McManera yesterday afternoon for $1,250 per foot, or a total of $82,500. The sale affected the transfer of the property by S. B. L. immediately after the purchase of the property by the Great West Land Co. King's jewelry store, and Frank White's real estate.

HOTEL BYLAW PASSES COUNCIL

No Discussion Over Measure to Give G. T. P. Assessment of $50,000 on Hotel Site.

A bylaw providing for concessions to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company, in regard to the $1,000,000 hotel which the company is to erect on McCallum avenue, will be submitted to the council on April 24, when the twenty-two money by-laws covering the season's expenditures on capital account will be put before the people for endorsement. The bylaw to provide for the concessions was provisionally passed at a special meeting of the council last night.

The property now occupied by the Grand View Hotel, the Travis Barker Exchange Hotel, and 50 feet to the north of the lane next the Grand View, will form the site of the new hotel, which will cost, with furnishings, at least $750,000, and the concessions which will be granted by the passage of the bylaw are a $50,000 assessment for five years on a property at present worth $125,000, water at cost for twenty years, and the right to close a portion of the lane from McCallum avenue. A strip of land from the rear of the property will be given by the city to the company in exchange for the portion of the lane which is conceded to it.

There was just a quorum of the council last evening when the bylaw was brought down. It was passed by a vote of 12 to 2. The mayor, Aldermen Mould, Melnis, Gowan and Lumby.

FORMAL OPENING OF OLIVER SCHOOL

Six Hundred People Attend Opening of Seventeenth Street Educational Institution—A Check from Frank.

About 600 people attended the formal opening of the Oliver school, seventeenth street last evening. Hon. Frank Oliver, in whose honor the school is named, was unable to come from Ottawa, but the place was filled by Hon. C. R. Mitchell, minister of education.

Others present were Chairman Sinnott of the school board, Dr. S. Mackenzie, deputy minister of education, Dr. T. J. P. of the Alberta university and several other noted educationalists.

Hon. Frank Oliver announced by telegram that he was sending a contribution of $100 to the art fund of the school. After addresses, a program of music was rendered by the school children. The minister referred to the importance of vocational education, and expressed the hope that it would be found possible to introduce more definite education in agriculture in the schools.

Others who spoke were Mr. Sinnott of Calgary and Dr. Galbraith, of Lethbridge. The school was opened for students two weeks ago.

Corbin Mine, On Which Agreement Does Not Expire Until May, Only Property Working In Whole Bituminous District

MINEWORKERS' EXCHEQUER PREPARED FOR A FIGHT

Strike Benefits Amounting to $20 Per Month Will be Paid to Men Who Are Out—No Disorder and No Communication Between Men and the Operators

(Special to The Capital.)

Fernie, B. C., April 1.—Six thousand miners laid down their picks and shovels and walked out of the mines in the district where in the agreement between operators and workers regarding wage and other regulations expired. With the exception of four hundred non-union men who obeyed the strike order the miners striking were all members of the United Mine Workers of America. In Fernie the last day shift came down from the Main mines at four o'clock, and the six o'clock train brought those from the Coal Creek mines while at Michel a thousand workers threw down their tools, making a mine will produce about 500 tons daily but this will close at the end of April, when there will be no coal whatever coming from the Pass.

Both operators and men seem equally determined to stand by their guns and as the miners state that they are being supported by the International Union the struggle is likely to be protracted. The international treasury had a balance of $180,000 in hand last year with a membership of 300,000. An assessment of fifty cents a month is now being paid to the members striking in the Evans field of the Pittsburg and in the Colorado districts. In the two places there are about twenty thousand men drawing from the fund, while in the British Columbia district there will be four thousand, the rate usually allowed being $3 per week for men, and $2 for wife and $1 for each child. This would mean about $20 per month to each man on an assessment of 25 cents a month upon the whole membership.

A meeting of the executive board of this district will be held Monday when these matters will be discussed. Manager Asquith gives out no information except that there has been no communication between operators and union officials. There is no disorder in the Pass.

LAND OFFICE RETURNS RECORD OF PROSPERITY

FIGURES FOR MONTH OF MARCH SHOW BIG JUMP IN MINERAL RETURNS.

Receipts in the mineral branch of the Dominion Land Office made a tremendous record during the month of March, according to official figures given out this morning.

The total receipts for all branches for the month was $13,000, all nearly $10,000 greater than the total amount of last month, and three times as much as the receipts for March of last year.

The timber and mines branch supplied the greater portion of this revenue, taking in something over $23,000 during the month. During this week alone, the total receipts for mineral and timber was $20,000. This includes $17,000 paid in oil land leases.

The total number of homestead entries this month was 410, as against 303 in March of last year. The past month showed a phenomenal activity in South African sheep, as compared with the corresponding month of last year. There were 24 warrants taken up this month, and only 7 in March of last year.

The cancellations this month were 213, and the patents recommended 213. The letters received numbered 6252, and the letters sent 7518, as against 5209 last year.

COYOTES AND FREIGHT RATES ENEMIES OF SHEEP GROWER

The coyote and high freight rates are two enemies with which sheep breeders in Alberta have to contend, according to information brought out at the session of the royal sheep commission held yesterday afternoon in the city hall.

The coyote is the most difficult to deal with, and that the provincial government will have to distribute a coyote bounty if sheep raising is to be encouraged in the province, was clearly shown.

The granting of a bounty, and the erection of strong, high fences of the chain-link type are great factors in getting rid of coyotes. T. W. Ritch, a member of the commission, gave a very interesting account of how other sheep raising countries deal with the wild animals of the coyote class, and he said that the erection of fences of strong wire, and of sufficient height, was found to be very effective in keeping them out.

Too, were enemies of sheep raisers but these could be effectively kept out by erection of rabbit fences. Mr. Ritch also gave a technical account of the treatment of wool from the sheep.

The high freight rates for breeding purposes brought into the province, was also brought up by the sheep raisers present, as one of the difficulties with which they had to contend. The fact, also, that wool was not on the free list, was another difficulty.

Mr. Ritch showed the sheep population of Alberta at present to be 155,000, an increase from 125,000 in 1909. There was no reason why, if certain difficulties were overcome, Alberta should not be a successful sheep raising country, said Mr. Ritch.

BIG DEALS CONSUMMATED IN STRATHCONA REALTY

WHYTE AVENUE BUSINESS PROPERTY BEING TURNED OVER AT HANDSOME FIGURES—HAYVY BUYING IN RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY.

Strathcona, April 1.—The sensation of the week in realty circles has been the sudden and active demand for Whyte avenue business sites with the investing public. Not since the boom of four years ago has the city witnessed such a brisk dealing in West Whyte sites and there is every good reason to assume that this movement is yet in its primary stages. The movement however, was not unexpected, as the steady buying in residential sections for the past two months left little doubt that investing interest would sooner or later spread to the choice business locations available along Whyte.

While it is next to impossible to ascertain the full extent of the movement this week it seems safe to estimate the sales in West Whyte sites alone at $75,000. That handsome amount is being realized in some of these sales goes without saying. One of the first of the deals was put through early in the week in which Dr. Gullison disposed of a site on the corner of Whyte and Second street west for $10,000. He is said to have bought this property some years ago for $8,000. The majority of these business site sales have been made to Edmonton investors with the price ranging from $3,500 upward per lot on Whyte frontage west of First street.

It is apparent that the buyers are to be taking a few months into the future of Whyte avenue west as this is unquestionably the high level bridge via Fifth street. A number of the sites said are some distance removed from the present business section, but with the erection of the new post office and the extension of the pavement three blocks west as proposed, there is little doubt that the prices of today will be enhanced wonderfully in another year's time.

FIRST MEETING OF THE NEW SENATE

All of the members of the new senate were present as follows:

Hon. Mr. Justice Stuart, chancellor of the university, occupied the chair; C. Pardee, chairman of the board of governors; Dr. H. M. Tully, president of the University; Dr. J. H. Twenty-nine of the students are women. There are five students from Calgary and four from Lethbridge.

DEAN OF EUROPEAN MONARCHS

Berlin, April 1.—A dispatch from Meiningen says that great preparations are being made for the popular celebration tomorrow of the eighty-fifth anniversary of George II., the reigning grand duke of Saxe-Meiningen. Duke George is the oldest of European monarchs, being about four years the senior of Emperor Francisco Joseph who ranks next in point of age. He has always been remarkably popular among his subjects on account of his liberal policy, and his intelligent interest in the arts has made the word Meiningen a synonym of excellence in musical and theatrical circles. Since his accession to the throne in 1866, following the abdication of his father, the Duke has devoted himself restlessly to the cultivation of the fine arts, and his little court has been the centre of the highest cultured life of Germany. Musicians, authors and actors have found there the same congenial surroundings that attracted Goethe and Schiller to the capital of the neighboring duchy of Saxe-Weimar in the reign of Grand Duke Frederick August in the early days of the last century.

BIG FISH COMPANY DEAL

Seattle, Wash., April 1.—Nine of the finest and best equipped canneries on the coast of Alaska, property of the Northwestern Fisheries Company, a Morgan-Guggenheim corporation, today taken over by the new corporation, formed and controlled by the Pacific Fish Company of New York, Baltimore and Chicago. The purchase price of the Northwestern canneries is said to have been in the neighborhood of $1,500,000.

ROOSEVELT TO RESUME TOUR

San Francisco, Cal., April 1.—After eight busy days in San Francisco and vicinity Colonel Roosevelt will resume his tour tomorrow. He is to stop at Reno, Nev., Monday, to deliver an address on "Good Citizenship," and then will go to Sacramento to speak before the California legislature. From Sacramento he will proceed northward to visit some of the principal cities of Oregon and Washington.

"I'm sorry you've got to leave Eden and go to work simply because I gave you the rest of that apple," said contrite Eve.

"Never mind," said Adam, "The ultimate consumer always gets the worst of it."

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD GOTHAM

Transportation Problem In Theatre District One Of The Sights The Great City—Historic All Saints Closes.

New York, April 1.—The transportation problem in this city, with its millions of inhabitants and hundreds of thousands of transients, presents difficulties the magnitude of which is frequently underestimated. Inhabitants of smaller cities find it rather difficult to realize the enormity of the passenger traffic on the subway and in this city in this respect, one of the difficulties issued the other day by the Interborough Company gives some interesting figures which illustrate clearly some of the difficulties with which the company has to contend in the effort of furnishing adequate transportation facilities to the city's restlessly moving crowds. The figures give statistics concerning the number of passengers who, at different times, pass through the Times Square station of the subway, either coming from or going to their homes.

The Times Square station is located in the heart of the theatre district and is therefore the one mostly patronized by the theatre crowds. Careful observation extending over many weeks showed that during the winter season 12,500 persons passed through that station on an average every afternoon in time for the matinees, and 12,500 for the evening performances. That makes a total of about 25,000 persons a day, who use the subway and pass through the Times Square station to reach the various theatres. The fact that this large crowd has to be handled practically every two hours, one hour before matinee time and one hour before the evening performance begins, increases the difficulty of the task. Of course, the same crowds, when handled again after the close of the performances, but, although the rush immediately after the close of the show is perhaps as great or even greater than before the shows begin, it subsides much sooner, while the return movement of the crowds extended over considerably more than one hour.

The Marine Observer at Sandy Hook rubbed his eyes in surprise the other morning when he saw the French bark Quetzal, with her sails furled, coming majestically through Ambrose Channel, which is never used by sailing vessels. What made the mystery even greater was the fact that the sailing vessel was not towed by a steam tug. The bark dropped anchor off Staten Island. When it was learned that she was equipped with a 400-horse-power gasoline engine, which enabled her to make her anchorage under its own power. The company which owns the bark intend to install gasoline engines on all of its sailing vessels, as it was found to be of great help during calm weather and considerably shortened the length of the trip.

Long Island already has a town named Babylon and one named Orient, and if the plan conceived by Millardus N. Cossens, a wealthy Greek resident of Manhattan, is realized, it will soon have a town called Patrie, which is the Greek for Fatherland. It is the plan of Mr. Cossens to found, not far from Babylon, a town or city inhabited exclusively by Greeks. There are more than 30,000 Greeks in New York and if only one half of that number should buy lots in the new town and settle there, Patrie would become quite a large community. If the plan succeeds, Mr. Cossens will give thirty-two lots for the site of an orthodox Greek church and a Greek university, and $25,000 in cash toward the cost of the buildings.

The old All Saints' Episcopal Church at Henry and Scammell streets, once one of the most fashionable churches in the city, but long since encroached upon by Russian and Polish emigrants, will soon be a thing of the past. The Rev. Dr. Nicholas Dummell, for forty years rector of that church, will retire on Easter Sunday and it is expected that after his retirement the church will be permanently closed. When Dr. Dummell first took charge of All Saints' church on All Saints' Day, 1870, many members of his congregation used to row across the East River on Sundays, to attend the services. There were no bridges then and ferries were irregular. "Boss" Tweed was a vestryman of the church, and many other wealthy and prominent men belonged to the congregation.

The other afternoon a strange woman, well clothed and timid, knocked at the door of the rectory house of the Church of St. Catherine of Genoa, on Amsterdam Ave. To the attendant who opened the door she said: "I think I heard a child cry as I passed out of the church just now. Won't you see whether it is in trouble?" The attendant ran to tell the rector and when the rector arrived the woman was gone. The attendant hastened to the church, and as they entered they heard a cry. Lying in one of the pews, a child dressed in clean white flannel, and rolled in a shawl of blue, they found a baby girl. They took it to one of the sisters in the parochial school adjoining the church. Pinned to the child's garment was a note containing the information that the child was twenty days old and asking the rector to have the baby baptized in the church and named Anne Gwyn. There was no signature or any other mark by which the mother of the child could be identified. The little foundling was sent to Bellevue.

A number of prominent society and club women of Montclair, N.J., have started a movement for the solution of the servant girl problem, one of the most acutely puzzling problems of the city. The plan of the women is to establish throughout the state training and cooking schools for servants and girls who wish to become servants. In these schools the girls are to be taught every branch of housework and cooking under the direction of competent teachers. The

TEXAS LAW

A white man during reconstruction times was arraigned before a colored justice of the peace for killing a man and stealing his mule. It was in Arkansas, near the Texas border, and there was some rivalry between the States, but the colored justice tried always to preserve an impartial frame of mind.

"We've got two kinds of law in this State," he said, "Texas law and Arkansas law. Which will you have?"

The prisoner thought a minute and then guessed that he would take the Arkansas law.

"Den I discharge you for stealin' de mule, an' hang you fo' killin' de man."

"Hold on a minute, judge," said the prisoner. "Better make that Texas law."

"All right. Den I fine you fo' killin' de man, an' hang you fo' stealin' de mule."—Ladies' Home Journal.

THE DIVISION OF DUTIES

The present King George in his younger days visited Canada in company with the Duke of Clarence. One night at a ball in Quebec, given in honor of the two royalties, the young prince devoted himself exclusively to the young ladies, paying little or no attention to the elderly ones and chamberlains.

His brother reproached him, pointing out to him his social position and his duty as well.

"That's all right," said the young prince. "There are two of us. You go and sing God save your grandmother, while I dance with the girls."—Ladies' Home Journal.

TOO MANY ALREADY

An old man who had led a sinful life was dying, and his wife sent for a near-by preacher to pray with him. The preacher spent some time praying and talking, and finally the old man said: "What do you want me to do, Parson?"

"Renounce the Devil, renounce the devil," replied the preacher.

"Well, but parson," protested the dying man, "I ain't in a position to make any enemies."—Ladies' Home Journal.

One Argument A Boomerang to The Promoters

The most remarkable argument in favor of granting a franchise to the International that has yet been produced is the contention that should a flow of natural gas be found near the city the company could be put out of business by a rival concern and that it would be better business to let a company take this risk than for the city to take it.

The argument is a boomerang. If gas were discovered and a rival company secured a franchise and laid mains in the city to supply natural gas the International with its artificial plant would certainly be put out of business, or compelled to deliver natural gas itself.

But if the city owned the plant, the city could not be put out of business unless it gave a company a franchise to come in and destroy its investment.

The natural thing for the city to do in the case of the discovery of natural gas would be to go into the business of supplying natural gas in order to give the patrons of the plant the cheapest gas possible.

The natural thing for the company to do in the same case would be to continue the artificial gas business as long as possible in order to get as high a price for its gas as the circumstances would permit.

In either case, however, the plant for the manufacture of artificial gas would not be a loss any more than the electric plant at the foot of the hill would be a loss in case the city secured hydro-electric power. The plant would remain as an auxiliary to protect the patrons in case of accident to the natural gas supply, such as happened at Niagara last winter, when the thermometer dropped to the bottom of the bulb, and the natural gas supply was shut off by the cold weather.

It is obvious that with a company holding a non-exclusive franchise there is an element of risk, but the patrons of the gas plant would pay for this risk in the price they paid for gas, just as they pay for fire insurance in their electric light bills.

But with no franchises out and the city owning the utility there could be no risk to the city and the patrons would get the cheapest gas, either artificial or natural, that the circumstances would permit.

No Possibility Of An Election Before Next Year

With the whole of the west almost a unit for the Laurier government on the reciprocity plank alone and with the present representation scarcely half of what it will be after the next census, the thought that the Dominion government would precipitate an election is an indication of the extent to which the anti-reciprocity forces in eastern Canada misjudge the situation.

Were the Laurier government to bring on an election now it could only secure from the west its present representation. But a year from now, with the reciprocity agreement in force and a redistribution following the census, it would be possible to get almost all of the 44 members who will represent the west in the next parliament.

Wilfrid Laurier may not know everything there is to be known, but he knows better than to throw away an advantage such as this.

City of Edmonton Much In Need Of A New City Hall

No one will dispute the contention of Mayor Armstrong that the city needs a city hall and that the time to commence is now.

Edmonton has worried along with its business headquarters scattered about various buildings all uniquely unfitted for the purpose for which they were applied, and the public has stood the inconvenience while the civic employees have been ungrumbling. But the time has arrived when the city needs new quarters and something handsome should be the order.

The mayor puts the figure at a million dollars. The estimate sounds large, but before it is built it will be inadequate to the requirements if it is not as large as the mayor thinks it should be.

The mayor is right when he says the city hall should be started this year.

International Should Cease Employing Tenderfoot Writers

In employing men to write its stuff for the Journal, Town Topics and other such publications, the International should draw the line at tenderfoot and farm hands. Here is a sample from the Journal:

Government geological and meteorological reports of several years ago show that there is little oil or gas in paying quantities from Boiler Rapids on the Athabasca river to many miles north of Fort McMurray, while at the points in the north country where there is large quantities of natural gas it would cost many millions of dollars to bring it to this city.

The much talked of scheme whereby gas could be brought from the big Pelican river well which is said to be spouting gas in great quantities with such force that its roar can be heard for miles, is termed ridiculous by many.

The Pelican Rapids, where the well is, which the Journal's gas artist intends to intimate is somewhere in the fastnesses beyond McMurtry, is actually 65 or 70 miles this side of Boileau Rapids.

The well was drilled by W. A. Fraser, of Petrolia, for the Dominion government and his report in the Vol. X of the geological Survey Annual is practically the only geological report on the gas resources extant.

The obvious fact that the bright young man who is producing the "dope" to convince the public that there is no gas in the north country is not acquainted with the geography of the country he is writing about is not likely to add power to his write hand.

OVERLAND

The plants of the Willys-Overland Co. are the largest, most complete and best equipped. The Toledo plant alone covers over 30 acres. The five Overland chassis are absolutely standardized. No maker in the world works to closer limits in fineness of fit.

No other manufacturer can produce the car described below, sell it at the price we ask, and make a profit. This is a fact which comparison will prove. Certain it is, that no maker gives as much for so little. 25,000 Overland owners know this from experience.

OVERLAND MODEL 51

With or Without 50-6000's
A roomy, beautifully furnished, luxuriously upholstered, stylish car, equipped with a high duty 30 h. p. motor of great efficiency, quietness and flexibility.

We know, beyond all question, that Overland Model 51, shown on this page, is the greatest automobile value in the world.

We also know that it isn't an easy matter for the man who is seeking the best car for his money to make a choice.

He is perplexed by the conflicting advice of friends, preconceived prejudices, and the extravagant misleading statements of overzealous advertising writers and automobile salesmen.

There is one way to make the right decision quickly and carefully and correctly, and that is to investigate, compare and judge for yourself. Make a careful comparison point for point. If it is possible, take a ride in each of the cars.

The buyer who selects a car on the merits of this comparison and demonstration invariably selects the Overland.

Consider and bear this point in mind always, that the Overland is a manufactured car, every part and every piece made in the Overland plants.

"MEN BEHIND" NOW THE BIG ITEM

"What automobile to buy is, after all, important only as a name tells what you are buying in your automobile. In other words, the automobile buyer should learn how to choose a motor car because it is the best in the world that he can buy for the money he wants to spend," said Ralph Bellamy, manager of the Edmonton Garage, local representative of the Chalmers Motor Company, yesterday.

"I should say the greatest thing to consider in buying a car is the company behind it. Has the manufacturer money enough to build the cars he advertises? Has he the ability to manufacture such a car as he claims to build? Is the factory in which the car is made properly equipped? How does the maker treat owners of his cars? These I regard as the most vital questions to consider in buying an automobile.

"Some companies are very willing to take your money but will not stand back of their product. With the Chalmers company, every Chalmers driver is a friend and protégé; the company stands back of its car and stands with the car's owner.

Use Second Point to Consider.

"I should say the next most important thing to decide is the use to which the car is to be put, so that the most suitable type may be secured. Do you want a car for touring or for town use? Are you going to drive it winter or summer, or both? Will you drive it yourself or will you have a chauffeur? For touring you want lots of power and speed; for town use you want a perfect control and a car easily handled in crowded streets. If you buy from a company which specializes in these things may mean much to the success of your purchase. Of course, many are now following the policy of the Chalmers company; building all-around classes upon which may be used different styles of bodies. Both the '30' and the '40' have lots of power and speed, combined with perfect control. Still the choice between a '30' and a '40' might rest on just the use one wanted to make of the car.

"The stamina of the mechanism—the construction—should next be considered. You certainly want a good car, one in which every part is carefully made of the best materials. Preferably, you want to buy from a company having a large enough product to take advantage of wholesale prices in buying materials, making quantity a means to get quality; one large enough to be able to have the very best mechanical and human manufacturing equipment. But you want to stop short of the car made in a factory where large output is carried to excess.

Simplicity a Prime Factor.

"In construction, have special regard for simplicity and accessibility. It takes a mechanical engineer to understand the operation and construction of some automobiles, and the average buyer is not a mechanical engineer. Under the head of construction should also be considered the body of the car. After all, you are going to ride in the body, you must remember. Is it roomy and comfortable? Is the upholstery good? Is it convenient?

"And last of all, look at the finish. That is the last thing to consider because it has the least to do with service. But be sure it is good when you do get it. A poorly finished car soon loses caste; and there is a lot of truth in the saying that when one part starts to give, the whole follows fast."

JAPAN BIG BUYER OF LITTLE FORD

"Among the hundreds of letters from automobile inquiries recently received by the inquiry department of the Ford Motor company there was one which proved of much interest to the advertising department," said John I. Mills, of the Edmonton Ford agency yesterday. "It was a letter from Japan from a possible buyer of a motor car, who had read one of the Ford advertisements in an American paper and sent the coupon attached to the advertisement to the Ford factory in Detroit.

"Last November this company made quite an extensive campaign of advertising, using only full and half page space in many of the first class newspapers in America. These advertisements announced the present prices on all Ford Model T cars, and the immediate inquiries from this campaign ran into the thousands. The coupon sent from the Japanese inquiry happened to be one clipped from one of the daily papers containing the Ford advertisement which had evidently travelled far across the seas into the hands of the interested Japanese gentleman.

"The postmarks and stamps of the letter were Japanese, but across the coupon was plainly written the name of the newspaper from which it was clipped. Inquiries of this nature have been very acceptable to the Ford Motor company, for they not only show that the Ford Motor company is doing business in the Far East, but they prove that good advertising is permanent and long lasting.

Japan Big Ford Buyer.

"One of the most enthusiastic foreign buyers of the American motor car is the country of Japan. This energetic race of people have taken to the motor car with the same eagerness and desire to learn that has characterized the people of the United States. From the old-fashioned two-wheeled cart drawn by a Japanese runner, they have rapidly risen to the most up-to-date automobile, and all within the period of three or four years.

"E. W. Prazar, who is the agent for the Ford Motor company in Japan, while on a recent visit to the home factory in Detroit, related a few of the Japanese rules governing the use of the motor car. The laws covering the use of Japanese automobiles are somewhat different than our American laws. The glass on the front of lamps must be red, while in place of our red flat on the rear lamp, Japanese law requires a green one. The speedometers are also slightly different inasmuch as they must show a maximum speed of 100 miles per hour. This has the effect of making that your car has ever attained, and should you ever be arrested for exceeding this limit, you would find the officer would look at the meter to be your maximum speed register. While in Detroit, Mr. Prazar produced a very interesting card which proved to be the official automobile driver's license for the country of Japan. It was an odd looking card, about the size of a business card, and was written on both sides in Japanese characters.

"A large red seal of the city of Tokyo was shown on one side, together with the license number of the motor car, and the opposite side were given on the license holder's name and address and personal appearance. "On returning to Japan, Mr. Prazar ordered a large number of extra fenders to be shipped. 'Fenders,' he says, 'are the most needed of any part on the car.' On account of the narrowness of Japanese streets and their crowded condition, with small push carts, etc., the automobile fender stands a very small chance for long life and far be it from the aristocratic Japanese gentleman to be driving a car with a smashed fender. Replacements of fenders are therefore very numerous."

Mr. Prazar predicts a bumper year for the sale of Ford cars in the country of Japan."

The Boston Nationals want third baseman Steinfield, upon whose services the Cubs have asked waivers. Capt. Chance, in response to Fred Tenney's inquiry, says Boston can make Steinfield in exchange for Matern, the left-handed pitcher. But Tenney declares that he hasn't lost his sense as yet.

SOME BARBER BALLPLAYERS

Kine Cole of the Chicago Cubs and Sam Crawford of the Detroit Tigers are not the only famous artists earning a livelihood on the diamond. James Shinn of the Sacramento team is a barber when not engaged around the difficult sack.

THEY WANT MORE MONEY

Ralph Gilze and Frank Barberich, two former Providence hurlers, are holding out for more money from the Montreal club. Eicher Hardy, secured last season from the Washington team, also demands more money before attaching his signature to a contract.

THEY SPURN BIG MONEY

Lately to New Westminster will cost Spring and Cliff a good deal of money the coming season. A report from Vancouver has it that they passed up offers of $2,000.00 each to play next season with Con. Jones' Vancouver club.

SAYS TOE
HOLD IS GOOD

FRANK GOTCH DECLARES THAT HIS FAMOUS HOLD SHOULD NOT BE BARRED ALTHOUGH IT IS A VERY SEVERE ONE TO THE VICTIMS.

WHY IS IT OPPOSED?

CHAMPION SAYS THAT ONLY THOSE WHO CANNOT WORK IT PROPERLY AND EFFECTIVELY WANT IT ABOLISHED—IS SAFE THOUGH PAINFUL IF USED RIGHT AND AT THE RIGHT TIME BY ONE WHO KNOWS HOW TO DO IT.

Why all this fuss over the toe hold in wrestling? Critics in many cities and some wrestlers, among them Dr. Hollar, are asking the powers that be to abolish it. Roller says the toe hold compares with the strangle hold and thinks that no wrestler should be permitted to use it. If they are to abolish it why not shut out the back hammer, croch and flying mare holds too?

There was good reason for the abolishing of the strangle hold, but small excuse for having the toe hold retired. The former hold when properly executed meant unconsciousness and death for the man it was used on. The trouble with the toe hold is that very few know how to execute it and there are different ways of putting it on.

No wrestler has ever perfected it to the degree that Gotch has used it, and possibly its application at best requires a physical makeup peculiar to the champion. In expert hands the toe hold is all right. Used ineptly it is all wrong, but not more so than the back hammer would be employed similarly. The expert applying the toe hold does it in order to force his adversary to turn his shoulders to the canvas. If he merely applies such a hold, leaving no opportunity for the opponent to get his shoulders to the mat, he should, of course, be disqualified for brutality by a competent referee.

Gotch likens the toe hold to the tactics of the Japanese in warfare. "The Japanese," says he, "when they besiege a foe always leave him one opening for retreat to his disadvantage. So in using the toe hold in wrestling I always leave my opponent an opening to turn him over on his back. Were I to sit astride a man, use the toe hold and block his efforts to get his shoulders to the canvas I should expect and merit disqualification. Any hold in wrestling which does not give the attacked athlete a chance to lose like a man is brutality."

To use the toe hold Gotch gets behind his man, uses his own legs to entangle and imprison the other fellow and grasping the foot of the ankle and, toe, twists the ankle until his opponent submits.

This hold causes the most intense pain imaginable. It seems to stretch

ECKSTORM IS STILL HOPEFUL FOR LEAGUE

Believes Moose Jaw Will Come Into Line and That Regina Will Stick for What He Expects to be Most Successful Baseball Season in This Section

"Do not pay any attention to newspaper reports. Moose Jaw is in the Western Canada League to stay; grounds have been provided, which was the only difficulty; will wire deposit in a few days." (Sgd.) J. W. Hennington.

This was the telegram received last night by C. J. Eckstorm, president of the Western Canada Baseball League, from J. W. Hennington, of Moose Jaw, president of the team in that city, and one of the staunchest boosters in this section for the popular sport of baseball. The information simply substantiated the statement of President Eckstorm to the effect that Moose Jaw had too many strong boosters to quit at this time.

An arrangement has been arrived at whereby the Moose Jaw team will be able to play on the old grounds temporarily until the exhibition grounds can be got into shape and until the street cars are ready to operate about the middle of July.

Baseball fans are somewhat put out by an article which accuses this club of getting out from under on account of the expense. They say this does not come with very good grace as Moose Jaw had to bear part of the expense of keeping the Regina franchise alive last year and has always met all bills without flinching.

"I knew right along that Moose Jaw would die hard, and I was right in my statements that all reports should be taken with a grain of salt," stated President Eckstorm. "With Moose Jaw and Regina in the league, the six-club league will be a big winner. Regina has displayed a spirit of enthusiasm that makes it most promising for the league."

Every ligament of the legs and back. When properly executed the victim imagines that he is some kind of strangled instrument and that some one is lighting up the keys to see how much strain the strings will stand before breaking.

Gotch thinks that he could not get the "Russian Lion" into the ring with him again with assistance of a truck horse. Gotch says that Hack did not come to this country with the intention of meeting him, but just to gather in some of the change that Jack Curley told him was lying loose around in different parts of this country.

"It may not be known, but it is nevertheless true, that it was Dr. Roller that furnished Jack Curley with the money to bring Hack to this country," says Gotch. "And the doctor met the 'Russian Lion' nine times on the latter's tour."

"When Curley went abroad with Hollar as the latter's manager last July it was a well known fact that he broke and that the doctor had to pay his way over. The pair did not clean up a fortune. In fact, the trip was a failure. Roller being injured in his first bout with Gama, the East Indian, Curley guaranteed Hollar $20,000 for a six weeks' tour."

IS A GOOD THING.

Says the Saturday News: "At a meeting in the Yale Hotel on Monday night a club was formed for the purpose of promoting the art of self-defense. It should have the best wishes of all friends of athletics. There is a great deal of unreasonable prejudice against boxing, which is in itself one of the most useful and enjoyable forms of exercise. It develops a man's physical equipment as little else does, and stands him in good stead in many an emergency of life. It is the country which is best prepared to fight which can do the most for the cause of peace. So it is the man who can, if need be, use his fists who wins respect for himself and does most to make people in his vicinity content themselves properly. Training in the art of boxing has been a distinct asset to many a man who has had big responsibilities on his shoulders in the course of his life."

Chicago, April 1.—A cablegram was received in Chicago today announcing that the baseball team of Waseda University, Tokyo, Japan, eastward bound on the Nippon Maru, due at San Francisco April 13. The team will engage in a series of games with Leland Stanford University, Santa Clara College and the University of California and will arrive in Chicago May 6. It will then play Chicago University and several eastern colleges at dates to be set later.

TORONTO MANAGER BELIEVES LARGE FELLOWS MAKE BEST LACROSSE PLAYERS AND HE WANTS VERITABLE GIANTS FOR HIS TEAM.

WON'T HAVE DWARFS

DECLARES LITTLE MEN CANNOT DELIVER THE GOODS AND THAT THEY ARE OUT OF PLACE ON THE LACROSSE FIELD—ALL PLAYERS MUST LIVE IN TORONTO HERE-AFTER IF THEY EXPECT TO STICK ON THE TEAM.

Ernie Menary of the Toronto Lacrosse Club, is already showing all the earmarks of a real manager.

In an interview he announced that six recruits would be tried out this spring, although all but one of the regulars would again be on the job. This means there will be some hot hustling for positions on the team. The only members of last year's twelve who will be an absentee this year is Walter Alton, the goater, who is in New York City. Harry Holmes, of Parkdale, has been signed up to be his successor.

Recruits Signed.

Manager Menary is after big men. He has all the small players he wants in Rulls, Barnett, Plagerard and Snip Wright, and any recruit with size is liable to get the preference. Ernie would not say whom he has secured. He has their names down on paper, but will not divulge any information for a week or so. He has not been worrying about the contracts of the regulars, as the latter are the property of the club.

Must Live Here

The St. Catherine's boys will have to live in the city this season. The order has already been sent forth. Pete Barnett and family are here now, Pete having secured a nice job in the Customs House. Kalls is in Hamilton, while Stagg and Plagerard are still in the Garden City.

Dandeno, the sensational young centre man, is teaching school in Petrolia, Ont., is through at Easter time, after which he returns to Toronto. Nick Carter, of Elora, has a good position at the city hall. He is in fair shape now, as he has been leading a simple life. Warwick has given up the idea of going west. His contract is in the hands of the manager right now. Braden, Powers, Harshaw and Wright are local residents.

Mortimer Out Again

Fred Mortimer, who was one of the stalwarts two seasons ago, but who suffered from illness last year, will again be on hand. He may find a position at home or outside home.

Manager Fred Clarke of the Pirates is 38 years of age and the oldest man on the team.

They are about the poorest in the league. Somebody told Russ Raymond Rube Marquardt was ambidextrous. "Yes," said the insert, lowering his voice, for Rube was near, "you want to look out for that guy; he'd just as soon shoot you in the head as look at you."

Eddie Summers, one of the stars of the Detroit pitching staff, is ill, and may not be able to pitch when the season opens. This Speaker of the Red Sox is also under the weather, but he is expected to be able to take his place in the outfield very shortly.

In his new ball park at Newark, N. J., Manager Joe McGinnity will fit up a cozy retiring room for women with a ma'am in charge. There is still some class to the old "Iron Boy."

President Murphy of the Cubs started down into the bathseller of a New Orleans hotel the other night, and one of the players, watching the "Chubby One" disappear, remarked: "Six weeks and a crack all-round catcher, but as a baseball man he's about the poorest in the league. Somebody told Russ Raymond Rube Marquardt was ambidextrous. "Yes," said the insert, lowering his voice, for Rube was near, "you want to look out for that guy; he'd just as soon shoot you in the head as look at you."

Brooklyn may put Bill Bergen, its erring mackman, on the market. Bergen is still a wonderful thrower and a crack all-round catcher, but as a baseball man he's about the poorest in the league. Somebody told Russ Raymond Rube Marquardt was ambidextrous. "Yes," said the insert, lowering his voice, for Rube was near, "you want to look out for that guy; he'd just as soon shoot you in the head as look at you."

ONTARIO NOW BOASTS OF ANOTHER LACROSSE ASSOCIATION—FAST GAMES EXPECTED.

Ontario now boasts of a new lacrosse association, ostensibly a provincial affair. At an organization meeting held Saturday afternoon, about thirty representatives of leading lacrosse clubs discussed clause by clause of the Ontario association. Not a dissenting voice was heard when speaker after speaker voiced his protest against the manner in which lacrosse has been handled by the C. L. A., and urged the establishment of this new association which aims to provide and foster the national game, entirely under amateur rules and regulation. Several amendments were introduced to the proposed clause of the constitution which will be discussed in detail at the first annual meeting of the O. L. A., in Toronto on Thursday, April 13. The three chief differences in the C. L. A., and the new O. L. A., are: Regarding the reinstatement of players. In the O. L. A., there will be no reinstatement. Once a player becomes a pro, he will always be a pro.

WINNIPEG VERY ANXIOUS

WAS OPPOSED TO BOXING

J. KLING USES HIS NOODLE

Winnipeg is after a live number to handle the Maroons coming season. The Press says:

"Though baseball news in Winnipeg has been more scarce than chicken's teeth of late, the head of the local club has at last opened up. From now on it is expected that there will be something new happening every day, so that the hungry fan will be well fed until the season starts in the Western Canada league on May 3. The news that a good live up-to-date manager will be appointed for the local club within the next few days has been received with joy by the fans yesterday, as they had pretty nearly given up hope of seeing high class ball here this summer. The announcement that Jiggs Donahue, the one-time famous Chicago first sacker, was after the managerial job was also good food for the enthusiasts, and many expressed the wish that though this man may cost a little more than the usual player, the local management would do well to sign him up. Donahue has a reputation extending across the continent, and the fact that he was port-folowing around the first sack in a Maroon uniform would no doubt be a great advertisement to the team and would be a big driving card in itself. He would fit in nicely at first base, as now that Beatty has gone it may be hard to find a suitable successor to the Turin to player. Besides the great playing qualities of Donahue, the former White Sox would, no doubt, prove of great assistance to the club owing to his strong connection with the Major League managers where he could secure the cast-offs who would prove stars in this league."

"Is Winnipeg anxious about baseball? One would judge so from the following:

"Winnipeg baseball fans should know about the team which will wear the Maroon uniform this summer. If they won't they ought to, for it is about time some definite announcement was made from the oracles that be, it is hoped (sincerely) that the press and public will be made bit wiser. At the present time as little is known about the Maroons as was known at this time last year, and that is nothing. Without the support of the press no sport ever flourished; publicity is needed to create interest, and it is impossible to get news, though the faith in the season is but a few weeks away. There is one man to blame for it, and yet he is not to be blamed, for he has to shoulder the burdens, financial and otherwise, all on his own account; this is President Blackburn. The other directors of the Winnipeg Baseball club should put a shoulder to the wheel if they want ball, and if they do not they should drop out and make way for others. Young blood might help, and some enthusiasts fans who have the money might just as well give a hand. True, the Winnipeg Baseball club stock does not pay a dividend just now, but some day it will—must, for the city is growing—and then there will be a scramble for the shares. So far, this season, it has been machine-out hope. It had been hoped that entry would be secured into the Minnesota-Wisconsin league, but the hopes were in vain. It had been hoped that Clarence Rowland would be here or manager and it does not appear likely that he will, though President Blackburn still thinks he may, and wired him yesterday for a definite answer. Again it is a case of hoping that the players will all be on hand when the gathering of the clans takes place. So it is a case of not knowing "where we are at," but it doesn't take long to get the machinery in motion, and when a manager is chosen—there are 15 applicants for the job—everything may run along smoothly."

McFarland says his father often chased him with a slipper.

Packey McFarland, the peerless little scrapper who helped make the Chicago stockyards famous, was encouraged in his ambition to win world honors in the prize ring, although his father gave him many a lesson for trying to climb the title ladder. Packey has had an interesting career. He earned $1.10 in his first battle.

It seems that Packey would never have been permitted to do any boxing had his father anything to say about it. Once he heard that his son was not attending school, but was spending most of his time in one of Chicago's little gymnasiums, where boxing was about the only exercise indulged in, and the father strongly objected. Every time he'd hear that Packey was boxing, the father would chase the boy out of the house, using his old carpet slipper on his pugnacious inclined son. At last Packey made his first appearance at a benefit, but his mother, who knew all about her son's ambitions, told Pa McFarland that the boy was working, as in fact he was. "Father had been after me most every day about going to work, so a few days before my first public exhibition I procured a job at driving a grocery wagon. With the job I took on one of the clerks as manager," says Packey. "He was a real manager, too. When he collected the $5 that was coming to me he first deducted 40 cents for our common car fare and a team cost $1.50 as his share. That night I arrived home proud as a peacock, turned the $1.10 over to mother and went to bed feeling that I was becoming rich at a rapid rate," remarked McFarland with a laugh.

It seems that every boxer gives his first money earned in the ring to his parents. Ernie Moran and many others can be named, and McFarland also must be included in the list. He says that every cent he earned in the ring went directly home up to the time he reached 21 years of age, a year ago last November. Since then he has been accumulating a bank account of his own. "I was working on the railroad once, when I was sent for by a friend in Chicago," says Packey, "who wanted me to look in some amateur bouts being held in Milwaukee. I was handed an A.A.U. card bearing the name 'Carl Limerick.' They didn't know me as a professional boxer at that time, and I knocked out two lightweightists the first evening. I had a hotel for the night. One of the watches disappeared. The next morning an official demanded that I show him the two prizes, and when I couldn't produce them I was taken to a jewelry shop and locked in with a couple of men. However, they produced my missing watch, and as they had failed to prove me a professional I went my way. To-day my uncle on the other side wears one of the watches and my father carries the other."

EASY TO TELL

Mr. Scraps—"I asked your daughter a very important question last night, and she referred me to you." Old gentleman—"If I'm What did you ask her?" "I asked her if she'd marry me." "Well, she won't." "Oh, she said so?" "No; but from what I know of the girl I don't believe she would have bothered herself about me if she had really wanted you."—New York Weekly.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB TO MARK HIGHWAY

Signposts Along Route of Coast-Long Thoroughfare Will be Erected in State of Washington—Motorist Organization Plans Several Tours for Summer, Including Portland and British Columbia.

Many matters of interest were taken up and disposed of at the annual meeting of the Automobile Club of Seattle held Thursday evening of last week, but undoubtedly the thing that will attract the most attention was the unanimous decision of the club to spend, not to exceed the sum of $500 to mark the Pacific Highway from the Canadian boundary to the Columbia River through the state of Washington. This work will be carried out under the direction of the good roads committee of the club, of which Norman Abrams is chairman.

In view of the fact that Mr. Abrams has just returned from a 3,000-mile tour of Southern California, he is especially fitted to carry out this work and utilize ideas that he has seen in making roads in California where the Automobile Club of Southern California has perhaps done this work as effectively as it has been done in any other part of the United States.

Uniform Signs Favored. A standard design was decided upon that might be selected by the good roads committee and this he made uniform throughout the state. The only reading matter the sign will carry will be the words "Pacific Highway," and the Seattle club emblem. The club has not yet decided whether the signs will be entirely of wood or upon 4x8 posts with an iron sign board. This latter scheme is used successfully, according to Mr. Abrams, in Southern California, and means that when the guide posts are once put up they will stand an exceptional amount of abuse that such public property usually receives. An effort will be made to interest the county commissioners in the various counties through which the Pacific Highway will pass to co-operate with the club in carrying out this work and in maintaining these signs after they are once up. It is the expectation of the committee to have this work completed by June 1 of this year. There is little doubt but that the British Columbia officials will take up the work of marking the Pacific Highway on into Vancouver and they will be made to have the Portland Automobile Club continue this sign work through the state of Oregon.

Several Runs Planned. The matter of club runs for the coming season was not discussed in detail, but James H. de Voe, chairman of the entertainment committee indicated that he had three tours planned out for the coming season: First, to Portland to attend the Rose Festival, and then later a trip to Vancouver, and if possible to arrange for barges, the tour to Victoria where they can either be shipped direct to Seattle by boat or returned to Nanaimo and cross to the mainland on barges as the incoming trip was made. The other trip contemplates a tour to Mt. Rainier National Forest Reserve.

Members who have suggestions are requested to write Mr. de Voe, outlining their ideas as to other additional tours that it might be desirable for the club to make during the coming season.

win games and to bring me up in the profession.

"First I began catching one of the first things I learned was that the catcher can break up a team quicker than anyone else can. He need not even make an error to do it. One of the easiest ways to lose a game is for the catcher to throw too much. He may throw perfectly and yet keep the infield moving in and out of position, expecting his throws and studying him instead of watching the batter, he may cause the game to be lost."

"My idea has been to make plays when they count and not use too many words. The infielders have got to watch, and if the catcher keeps them watching him all the time he takes their minds off their duties and causes them to be blunders."

"First and foremost in importance in winning is that the catcher never shall make or attempt to make any play, especially a throw, unless absolutely certain that the other men in the play have caught the signal, and understand what is to be attempted and are prepared to make the play with him."

"There comes a time in almost every ball game when the opposing team has a good chance to win by scoring a lot of runs in a bunch. The inning in which that happens is the one in which the catcher ought to pull off his play. In such a situation when a team is having a batting rally it is twice as easy for a catcher to catch men off bases as it is at any other stage of the contest. The team that is rallying and sees victory almost in hand always is excited and the base runners take more liberties, longer leads and lose their heads quicker than at any other time. Excitement robs them of their natural caution and the catcher who keeps cool and keeps thinking can catch runners off their bases frequently and perhaps break up a winning rally and save the game."

"The Cubs have done that many times, and it helped them win pennants. I am not claiming that I won those games. Confidence in each other is one of the big elements in winning games. The catcher who does not have confidence in his infield is afraid to throw and even when he does throw he throws timidly."

"A bad first baseman, or one in whom the others have no confidence, makes bad throwers of all. I believe in helping umpires and doing all I can to make their work easier. If they are let alone and not muzzled at their work, it is much more satisfactory. I am not put out of ball games. I take as much interest as anybody, but I cannot see the use of kicking on decisions."

GRANT THINKS HIS RACES

FAMOUS HARRY DOES NOT HAVE TO RUN THEM AFTER THEY ARE MAPPED OUT—TWICE WINNER OF VANDERBILT CLASSIC SETS NO PACES NOR DOES HE FORGE AHEAD AT THE START.

How did Harry Grant manage to win the great Vanderbilt cup classic twice in the season?

This question often asked has been answered by the famous pilot himself, and the answer is merely an explanation of how he drives every motor car test in which he engages. Grant has entered his reliable "Old No. 18," the same with which he won both Vanderbilt events, in the 500-mile International Sweepstake race at the Indianapolis motor speedway, next Memorial day, May 30.

Thirty cars have been entered in the $25,000 race and many of them are special racing cars, built especially for the event.

Against these will be the car which Grant, hurried round the Vanderbilt course. He has the greatest faith in his ability to win the big race with "Old No. 18." Grant is regarded by many motoring experts as the greatest American driver. His methods are very different from those which distinguished some of the more brilliant and spectacular drivers. He seldom shows any desire early in the race to forge to the front or to set pace, but his method is more conservative. Someone said, "Grant doesn't run a race; he thinks it." Grant plans out the degree of speed necessary to win, then drives according to that schedule.

Believes in His Car. In the second Vanderbilt last October, Grant did not seem a factor in the race until the last 50 miles. But he won. He had the faith in his car which he knew would respond to the limit of the mechanism's ability, when he came out to the starting line, and faith in his judgment to know the right minute to make that demand.

There has been considerable talk among men interested in automobile racing as to what this race would have to be ridden in to win. George Robertson, the famous driver who has now permanently left the track, is of the opinion that the race will be won in at least an average of 75 miles an hour. The Vanderbilt race last October was won in an average of 65.2 miles per hour, and the winning car was in the seven-hour grind will be about $40,000.

But this will not absolutely govern the winning of the race. The car which has the ability to withstand the constant torsional strain in combination with the driver, will win the Indianapolis race. Grant expects to do a great deal of preliminary training with the car not only on the road but on tracks.

In addition to the $25,000 offered by the Speedway, two companies have offered $2,000 for the winners. The first necessary machine to make an offer was the Henry Electric company of Anderson, Ind. This company will give the winner of the long grind an additional $1,000 if the car is Henry equipped. The other offer is made by the Columbia Lubricants company, makers of Monogram oils. This purse is known as the Monogram oil stake, and is for $1,000, divided into four prizes for the first four drivers to finish. The amounts offered 1 each in order are $500, $250, $150 and $100. It is expected that the total prizes to be won in the seven-hour grind will be about $40,000.

useless, powerful engine. The Regal roadster has made the bow to the public at several of the automobile shows, where it has been exhibited by local dealers and the unsolicited press comment has been only of high praise.

Built full underslung, all the weight is thrown below the axles. The car will stick to the road at any speed like a fly to a ceiling; it can't turn over, for there are no road curves, engineers say that will turn an underslung machine. Its wheel base is that of much larger cars; its cast-iron engine has been found, through tests, equal to very severe demands. Its strongest recommendation to the man who knows automobile construction is its weight—2,000 pounds—with a road clearance of ten inches possible despite the underslung chassis.

NEW MACHINES EMBODY MANY GLASSY FEATURES Understanding Body Throws Weight Alike and Makes Overturning Almost Impossible, Engineers Say.

Announcing its 1912 line of cars early in the spring of 1911, the Regal Motor Car Company, of Detroit, not only created considerable excitement throughout the country, but caused an innovation in the automobile business which if met with success will no doubt be emulated by other motor car concerns in this country.

At the present time many of the other big motor car manufacturers of the United States are just completing the announcement of their 1911 models, all of which make the announcement of the Regal concern the most unusual ever made in this country.

At the beginning of the buying season, rather than at the tag end when the tourist days are practically at an end, the Regal company is offering its 1912 wares, a line that embodies a revolutionary principle in the construction of motor cars and includes certain improvements in the construction of the cars that appeared in the 1911 line.

With no over-production, the Regal factory finds a healthy market flooding it with orders for the 1911 models and is taking time and the market by the forelock in stepping 365 days ahead.

The departure in motor car construction offered by the Regal Company is in the "90" roadster. This car is built low with all the earmarks of a racer in the snappy rakish lines and its

BRITISH EMPIRE COUNTS HEADS

Enumeration in Great Britain Will Commence Tomorrow Night—In- dian Census Presents Difficulties

London, April 1.—The British Empire is undergoing a process of having its population enumerated by the government. Tomorrow night has been appointed for the head of every household in the United Kingdom to fill in the census returns, accounting for every soul under its roof. Institutions and establishments holding more than 100 inmates, including prisons and asylums, are specially enumerated, while the war office and admiralty are responsible for furnishing the statistics concerning the army and navy respectively.

The census this year is the fifth imperial census, and the twelfth that has been taken of the United Kingdom in decennial periods. The 1901 census showed the population of the empire to be 396,294,152, a substantial growth from 1891.

By no means all the people have been included in any of the four decennial censuses, for it has been found impossible to convince everyone that the enumeration is not the prelude to a new tax. In India the census is particularly difficult, for these questions of caste mysteriously obtrude. On the occasion of the last census it was said that hundreds of thousands of Musselmans and Hindus hid themselves in the forest all night rather than be counted. No doubt similar difficulties will again present themselves and since the census does not permit of any guesswork, the population of the empire will go into the official records several hundred thousand under its full strength.

At work in Canada is, of course, under the supervision of the Dominion government, which pays its army of enumerators a small sum for every name collected. No doubt similar difficulties will again present themselves and since the census does not permit of any guesswork, the population of the empire will go into the official records several hundred thousand under its full strength.

Navy Defaulter Very Reckless

Paymaster's Clerk Robbed Battleship Georgia of $45,000—Spent the Money Lavishly

Atlanta, Ga., April 1.—Two United States secret service agents, who had been in Atlanta since Sunday night, left hurriedly for New York close on the trail of Edward W. Lee, the paymaster's clerk of the battleship Georgia, who disappeared from on board that vessel on the night of February 17, when the Atlantic fleet was in Chesapeake.

Before the departure of the federal agents it was learned that the young man of suave manners and smooth voice who had registered at the Piedmont hotel here on March 2 as "A. W. Carmichael, Buenos Ayres," and who created a sensation by the reckless expenditure of several thousand dollars in one day, was the fugitive paymaster's clerk.

In the downtown district of Atlanta and at breakfast tables in the residential sections the exploits of "A. W. Carmichael" continued to be the topic of conversation. In his own words he

Winston Churchill, the young English statesman, once began to raise a mustache, and while it was still in the budding stage, he was asked at a dinner party to take out to dinner an English girl who had decidedly opposing political views.

"I am sorry," said Mr. Churchill, "we cannot agree on politics."
"No, we can't," rejoined the girl, "for to be frank with you I like your politics about as little as I do your mustache."

"Well," replied Mr. Churchill, "remember that you are not really likely to come into contact with either."

FASHION'S EASTER PARADE MORE GEORGEOUS THAN EVER

ONE-PIECE SUITS HOLD FIRST POSITION IN METROPOLITAN STYLES THIS YEAR WITH COLORS SUBDUED BUT VARIED.

New York, April 1.—Easter, with its delightful revelations of spring fashions, its bewitching surprises and spectacular displays is rapidly approaching and the fashion shops are overflowing with the most tempting and enchanting displays of feminine finery for the bonnie Easterlings. Judging from the gorgeous exhibitions in the large shops the coming Easter parade will be a thing to be remembered.

A survey of the situation shows that one-piece dresses hold the first position among spring fashions. Except for the lingerie frocks, most of these are elaborate garments, suited for evening and dressy afternoon wear. Simple gowns are seen in serge, panama, satins, crepe, voile, marquisette, chalis and foulard. These fabrics are capable of every modification, from a simple and inconspicuous walking dress to an elaborate robe for evening wear.

Black and white combinations are looked upon with favor, and so are blues, in every shade from navy to Copenhagen, grays, tans and soft browns, violets and, as a whole, muted colors. Red is little seen except as trimming touches on dark-toned models, and other bright colors are used in the same way.

The distinguishing features of the one-piece gowns of the present style are wide collars, draped fabrics, inconspicuous revers, panel sashes and peasant sleeves in three-quarter and elbow length. Vivid shades of color are favored, but veiled with chiffon to soften them, or revers and collars are covered with lace so that only the edge of the real fabric shows.

Skirts are still narrow, as in the suits, though not extremely so. The average width it might be said, is 2 1/2 yards. They are plain gored, with bias folds, bands or pleated flounces at the bottom edges, or have a short tunic effect finished with elits to the hem, or are in long tunic style with straight hand or pleated blouse finish, or in double tunic style, giving the appearance of a double skirt. The broad, straight panel sash, attached to the shortened waist line, and falling about to the knees, is quite modish. In tailored gowns these panel sashes are of the fabric itself, and are bound with braid. In dressier effects the model is shown in ribbon, satin or chiffon.

In nearly all the new suits the favored trimming is braid, especially the wide braid, which sometimes forms the collar, cuffs and revers, and trims the skirt as well. Pieces of braid coming down the front and back of the jacket, and continued in the same way on the skirt, are distinctly the thing. Narrow braid is also very smart, especially when cut in ornamental designs on the skirt and coat. A touch of color is added by ornamental embroidery on the collar, sleeves and revers. There is merely a hint of this, and it is not allowed to become too prominent in the color scheme. Buttons are also very much in evidence, some of them of the same color as either the suit or the trimming, or as both, and some of them of silver or gilt. These latter are very small, quite tiny in fact. In general, however, the new suits, except the elaborate satin ones, are rather plain, comparatively little trimming of any sort, outside of braid, being seen.

Handwork is the dominant note on many of the spring models of blouses. Voile and marquisette are perhaps the newest forms in which lingerie blouses appear. The cool durability of these open-mesh fabrics is appealing to the one who is planning an outfit for summer wear. Most of the new blouses are of the simplest styles. The kimono blouse is the pattern most generally used. It is made collarless for the one who has pretty throats and the courage of this conviction. This same type can be worn with adjustable cuffs.

There are many ways of employing hand embroidery on lingerie blouses. The square meshes form excellent guide lines for straight conventional patches of different colored threads. A cream voile with a yoke outlined in three shades of blue, for instance, is a delightful color scheme. Tan, golden brown and yellow are good tones to combine on ecru marquisette. Red, too, in small dots, graduated in size, forms a very effective decoration for white blouses. Cross-stitching, to form little flowers or conventional forms, is easily applied on these square meshes. This method of decoration is most effective when two or three different colors are combined to give the effect of the German embroidery or old time simpliers.

French knots are another effective way to decorate the spring and summer blouses. They wash easily and are readily made by the amateur. Another idea on the same line is the making of loops of colored thread. Both French knots and the loops can be grouped to fill spaces that are outlined to represent petals of large flowers. This effect, that, after all, is an imitation of heartwork, leads us to the mode of decoration that promises to be more popular than ever during the coming seasons. Wash blouses are used, and the designs are worked out in Japanese, French and Bulgarian embroidery. The combination of handwork with lace motifs is very pronounced.

Scarves are more popular than ever and semi-transparent coats and wraps enhance close kinship with the scarves of chiffon and lace are being shown in many attractive forms. Scarves for use with evening and house frocks are decorated with bead embroideries and in the shops exquisite things are shown in chiffon and in tulle with intricate bead embroidery finishing the ends deeply and perhaps continuing in a border about the sides. The effects obtained are often charming and the widest given by the beads drags the scarf down into the clinging lines favored by many women.

HEAVY DEMAND FOR WHYTE AVE. SITES

Approximately $35,000 Worth of Property Has Changed Hands During Past Few Days.

Strathcona, April 1.—The sensation of the real estate market this week is the sudden popularity of Whyte avenue business sites with the investing class. Between $30,000 and $35,000 is said to have been put out for locations on Whyte west within the past two days alone, some of this property being close to the new postoffice, somewhat beyond the present business section. Most of the really agents are reticent regarding the transfers, but several Edmonton parties are known to have taken advantage of some of the good propositions. This movement in business property has been expected since the great activity in suburban and residential property opened early in the year, and some splendid profits are being realized by owners of Whyte avenue lots who bought some years ago. Dr. Collison is said to have purchased for $300 the site he sold this week for $10,000.

It is understood that the purchasers of the Dr. Collison property have also bought a lot from L. L. Fuller, adjoining the new Biltmore hotel on Whyte, the price being in the vicinity of $7,000. Another lot some distance west of the new postoffice was bought by ex-Adm. W. G. Connelley from Mrs. Howard for $5,000. Loughlin and Morfin put through a deal for a lot still farther west to an Edmonton buyer, the price being around $3,600. P. Gallagher & Co. also sold a lot in block 45 yesterday for a good price to an Edmonton party.

Residential properties in Garneau, Strathcona Place and other west end subdivisions are moving slowly, but several lots being sold yesterday. East end and southeastern additions are holding their own in the advance market, a large number of good sites being sold this week in the Irvine addition alone.

P. Burns Loses Plant Here.
By arrangements carried out within the past few weeks, the packing plant of Vogel Meat and Packing Co. in the east end of the city, will be operated next week under the management of P. Burns & Co. The Burns people have leased the Strathcona plant for some months and will hereafter conduct their slaughtering business there, which was carried on in Edmonton prior to the injunction proceedings taken against the firm in Norwood last winter.

The Vogel plant has been renovated and improved during the past few weeks and will provide excellent temporary quarters for the firm, when used in conjunction with the south yard and buildings.

NEWS FORECAST FOR COMING WEEK IN U. S.

Washington, D.C., April 1.—The assembling of the extraordinary session of congress called to consider the subject of reciprocity with Canada will be the feature news event of the week. As it will be a new congress, the sixty-second, the work of organization will probably consume the greater part of the week. President Taft's message is expected to be received by both houses on Wednesday, the day following the opening of the session.

The meeting of congress may perhaps have a strong rival for first place in the news columns, in the reconvening of the supreme court of the United States, providing that body hands down its long-expected decision in the trust cases when it meets Monday after a two weeks' recess.

Charles D. Hiles, assistant secretary of the treasury, will begin his duties Monday as secretary to the president, succeeding Charles B. Norton, who has resigned to become vice president of the First National Bank of New York.

A convention of North Dakota farmers and business men has been called to meet in Grand Forks Tuesday to make formal protest against the proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada.

The Georgia prison commission will hold a hearing Thursday on petitions for the pardon of Edgar Stripling, the chief of police of Danville, who was recently re-arrested after fourteen years' freedom, and returned to Georgia to serve a life term for murder.

The National Electric Light Association will hold an important meeting in New York Saturday to consider the relation of the national and state governments to the conservation and utilization of water powers.

The new commerce court has designated Monday as the day for the beginning of hearings before the court. The sessions will be held in Washington.

Other matters that will figure more or less prominently in the news of the week will include the situation on the Mexican border, the taking of the decennial census of the British Empire, the meeting of the International Music Congress in Rome, and the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences in Philadelphia.

Municipal elections will be held in many cities throughout the middle west. Some of them, however, will be of unusual interest. An exception will be furnished by the election in Chicago, where Charles E. Merriam, Republican, and Carter H. Harrison, Democrat, are engaged in a bitter contest for the mayoralty. Michigan will hold a state election for the choice of two senators of the state university and a number of other minor state officers.

Princeton, N.J., April 1.—Princeton University is preparing for the entertainment of a large number of prominent visitors on the occasion of the tenth annual meeting of the New Jersey Conference of Churches and Correction. The conference will open tomorrow and remain in session over Monday and Tuesday. Governor Wilson and other noted speakers will be heard. One of the more important questions to be discussed will be that of state supervision of private charity. Other matters to receive attention include living conditions in rural communities, the immigrant woman, child mortality, needed legislation for child care, tenement problems, and the home in town and country. In connection with the meeting there will be an interesting exhibition illustrating the work being done in mental hygiene.

A Few Facts About Namayo

NAMAYO Avenue has attracted the attention of the investor owing to the fact that on no street in the city can as large a revenue be derived on the investment made, as on improved business property as this street.

Being the largest street in Edmonton, paved and double tracked for over a mile in length, having the dense population, who will do their shopping here, it is destined to be one of the best retail sections in this city.

Unimproved business property is now selling for $200 per front foot. We predict, and we do not think we are too optimistic, that this property will sell for $400 per front foot before July 1. Property north of the C. N. R. is also very active and being the only street near market that has a through car line, property in this locality should increase 15 to 20 per cent. in the very near future.

Chicago, Ill., April 1.—Scientists all over the world are keenly interested in the experiments which Dr. A. C. Houston, Director of Water Examination of the London Metropolitan Water Board, is carrying out with the object of determining the effect of chlorine on typhoid bacilli. The water was examined, after the bottle had been vigorously shaken, and it was found that the initial number of 770,000 typhoid bacilli per c. c. had fallen to 4 per c. c. a reduction of over 99.99 per cent.

From Dalrymple

The culture for his experiments he obtained from an Irish dairymaid a typhoid patient in the care of Prof. Dalrymple, who had been treated with tetracycline. The culture of the tetracycline was used for the purpose of ascertaining the number of typhoid bacteria which could survive in water at rest, 3.5 °C. e. It was added to 5,000 c. e. of raw River Thames water. The water was then placed in a glass jar and the infected deposit were placed in a glass jar which had a temperature of 46.7 F.

tion. In the time the home market does not consume immediate against imports from abroad, but, of late, several of the vessels have been forwarded to the Thames.

Indeed, although exports for Germany, France, Spain, and South American ports were at one time rare occasions, they are now common. Two important contracts for Havre and Savona were secured a few days ago, and the North of England, and others are expected to follow.

It is not, however, the fact that, as the syndicate which is developing the coal mines in Galicia and Pennsylvania has acquired valuable iron properties in Spain, it will now have a ready market for its iron steamers from Baltimore to the Mediterranean with good prospect of return.

All these foreign enterprises, will, naturally, seriously prejudice the employment of the American flag, and it is not unlikely that will still further aggravated if a bill, which is being prepared by the United States government, passes into law.
